

A Winter Gathering

Calling Forth Our Own Authentic Voice

Facilitated by Lincoln Scott

Saturday - February 25, 2012

9:00am to 4:00pm

We will take a 1 1/2hr lunch break - feel free to bring your own lunch or there are many restaurants in the area.

The Enrichment Center - 902 N Market, Wichita

Cost: $40.00 (scholarships available)

Wear comfortable clothes! Bring paper & fast writing pens and a Willingness to Explore!

No writing experience necessary—the more the novice...the better!

We will have fun together finding & exploring your Authentic Voice!

Come Explore Our:

Deep Talent ~ Sacred Voice ~ Innate Creative Ability

Prepare to Be Surprised & Enchanted by Your Own Special Talents

Talent is like the water table...we tap into it with our own effort!

Using a simple process of putting pen to paper—We will explore ways to access that place within that is full of dreams and fresh ideas and forgotten talents. Come ready to write a lot and listen deeply. There will be short meditations and short readings of wonderful authors ... and lots of fun!

Lincoln Scott is a facilitator of local writing workshops in creative writing practice and is a certified facilitator in Holotropic Breathwork - a method of deep inner exploration using breath and music. He has lead several workshops using breathwork and other integrative, personal inner journey techniques. He has organized and led a weekly writing practice group.

RSVP: Rita Robl at info@gpei.org or 316.942.2201 x1499 or Lincoln at lincolndscott@cox.net